PENNSYLVANIA DAY.

The Old Keystone Leads Them All.

More Than a Quarter of a Million Cash Admissions to the Centennial Exhibition—The Governor's Reception—Mr. Brewster's Oration and the Other Speeches—The Fireworks—Incidents of the Day, &c.

PHILADELPHIA, September 29.—Yesterday's cash admissions were as follows: Main exhibition, 217,878; schools, 33,785; live stock exhibition, 5,823; add deadheads, 12,000. Total, 269,546.

There had been much of looking forward to "Pennsylvania Day," and the wonderful outpouring of the patriotic residents of the State, it was reckoned, would be the most interesting spectacle yet witnessed in or about the famous City of Brotherly Love. That every anticipation was realized cannot be questioned, and that many things took place which were not provided for in the elaborate programme of the day's festivities, will long be remembered by the happy multitudes who united in doing honor to the Commonwealth of so many cherished memories. To aid in the general rejoicing, the Clerk of the Weather entered into a special arrangement with "Old Probs.," the fellow who loafs around the Signal Office, for the assurance of a balmy atmosphere; and the old gentleman not only performed his stipulated part of the contract, but threw in a dazzling sun and an ethereal vault of the richest indigo blue. In consequence of this neat prearrangement, everything was propitious for the unbridled enjoyment of the grand occasion, and man and beast (car horses excepted) thanked Providence in its own peculiar ways for its munificent indulgence of their wishes in this one day of days in the great Centennial year. A holiday, legalized by special proclamation of his Excellency Governor Hartranft, participation in its manifold pleasures was not restricted to any peculiar class of the people, and in the mighty throngs of beings that drifted through the spacious grounds and buildings of the Exposition the banker and his lackey were side by side. The holiday really began with the first bursting of the sunlight upon the city, when the streets became alive with men, women and children, arrayed in their best and looking as happy as an hundred years of heroic and virtuous ancestry could possibly make them. They were not all Philadelphians, neither were they all Pennsylvanians, who made the solid army swell so immeasurably.

Pennsylvania at Home.

But it was a Pennsylvania day, for all that, and the Pennsylvanians who were there (few of them were absent) asserted their importance at every turn, and were not at all backward in the speechless but unmistakable assertion of their right and title, for the period of twelve hours at least, to the lands and appurtenances of the Exhibition. It was a busy day for Pennsylvania, too; for their's was the onerous duty of providing for the amusement, not only of each other, but of the entire vast assemblage. In this they did their duty well, and more was told the multitude of what a great State Pennsylvania was—how trivial were all earthly considerations which had not a direct bearing upon the interests of Pennsylvania, and what great people Pennsylvanians themselves were—than any similar multitude, if ever there was one, was ever told before within the recollection of "the oldest inhabitant" of the globe. The cluster of these communicative oratorical lights was a brilliant one, and they shed the effulgence of their genius in the Judges' Hall. The building inside and out was decorated with bunting, flags of all nations, and conspicuously so with the arms of the old Keystone State. The audience that was there couldn't have been greater, numerically, nor brighter, intellectually. There hadn't been such an array of beauty, manliness and brains within the unpretentious structure for many a day.

The Governor.

Governor Hartranft was there and presided over the gathering of his children, himself the youngest, handsomest looking of them all. His black eyes couldn't have been blacker and more lustrous than they were, and his chestnut locks were as wavy as the billows of the sea in calm weather. He spoke to his people as a father should, welcomed a great many Philadelphians to Philadelphia, and extended the compliments of the season and the hospitality of the grounds to all who had come from afar. [illegible] host of humor himself, he infused [illegible] his kindness into the atmosphere, and [illegible] the rhetorical outburst [illegible] he squeezed the [illegible] reach the platform [illegible] many impecu[illegible] proudly as though [illegible] proprietor of a Newfoundland dog.

Airing Their Oratory.

Promptly at ten o'clock Governor John F. Hartranft left the Globe Hotel under escort of the Veteran Corps, First Regiment of Infantry, and proceeded to the Pennsylvania State building, accompanied, among others, by the following prominent gentlemen: Ex-Governor Bigler, ex-Governor Pollock, Hon. Benj. Harris Brewster, Hon. John Scott, Hon. Simon Cameron, Hon. William Straus, Hon. Henry Rawle, Hon. Asa Packer, Hon. M. S. Quay, Hon. Morton McMichael, Hon. Daniel J. Morrell, and others. At the State building the distinguished party was received by Director General Goshorn, General Hawley and John Welsh, and at once proceeded to the Judges Hall, where the ceremonies of the day were to take place. The building was beautifully decorated inside with the bunting of all nations, the colors of the Keystone State waving above the main doorway. A raised platform, with a canopy of the national colors covering a beautiful and mammoth cactus, was reserved for the Governor and his escort of notables. The hall was not only packed to repletion, but the galleries and doorways fairly swarmed with people. The assemblage was notable for the attention it paid to lengthy discourses, and was evidently composed of those who were proud of the record the speakers made for their native State. Hon. Morton McMichael began the proceedings by introducing as the presiding officer of the day, Governor John F. Hartranft, who was received with loud cheers. After the playing of several patriotic airs by the First Brigade Band and the singing of a Centennial ode by the Corinthian quartet of the American Vocal Union, Governor Hartranft addressed the assemblage.

The Governor's Speech.

[illegible] Constitu- [illegible] vance in prosperity. [illegible] has never taken a step backward. [illegible] crease of population it has made rapid steps onward; it has grown wealthier day by day; the development of its internal resources has proved both in enterprise and its possessions of all things to make a great Commonwealth; its far-reaching lines of railroads and canals speak of its prosperity, and everything about us is an evidence of a great, an enterprising people. The people of this State are deserving of unstinted praise for the part they have taken in this international masterpiece, and for the great advancement they have made in the past century in education and all the interests that make up a glorious people. I now take pleasure in introducing to you General Joseph R. Hawley.

To the Hon. Benjamin Harris Brewster fell the laurel which properly belongs to the orator of the day. His voice was in excellent condition, his mien lost none of its stateliness, and his words were those of the orator at his best when patriotic emotion is at its highest. What little there was of the Star Spangled Banner in his oration was pardonable and atoned for most amply in his succinct and beautiful tribute to the noble history, both in war and in peace, of his adopted State, her prominence in the list of the original colonization of the country and the part she had played in the advancing industries and inventions now serviceable to the world. Congratulatory speeches were made by Gov. Bigler, Gen. Hawley, and others.

Winding Up the Meeting.

Gov. Hartranft then arose and said: "Ladies and gentlemen, the ceremonies are closed." The band in the gallery indulged in a patriotic air, and the packed hall was soon left to the guards and the chairs. The line of march was then taken up along the line of Machinery Hall, towards the Pennsylvania State building, which was reached before one o'clock. The Governor and staff and the distinguished guests at once retired to the Governor's room, which was draped with international bunting. Over the door hung a handsome silk banner, bearing a well-executed portrait of the Governor, and beneath it the word, "Welcome," Meanwhile the crowd had pushed its way into the building and completely filled the main hall, and when informed that the Governor would not begin receiving until 2 o'clock manifested an evident reluctance to depart. The guards, who were under command of Major E. H. Butler, aide-de-camp to General Goshorn, after considerable difficulty cleared the hall and allowed the Governor and his staff and a few dignitaries to leave the building and proceed to Lafayette restaurant, where they partook of an elegant lunch. During their absence all good Pennsylvanians flocked into the State Building and peeped into and peered at everything. There were Pennsylvanians from the North, South, East and West, Pennsylvanians old and young and short and tall, but the vast majority were Pennsylvanians who do not call Philadelphia their home, but who grinned broadly as they stepped into "our building" to join in the family reunion. On every table were registers, where each could form the and place of residence and add in a broad, roomy column any remarks the day and the occasion might demand. The country folk most patronized the registers, and it was amazing to see how each was anxious to see his or her name scrawled upon the page. Pennsylvania evidently has some rather sturdy citizens, judging from the many determined signatures and from the amount of space required to announce the presence of many of the households, whose hearths were entirely forsaken to honor the day. The Getz family, for instance, required eleven lines to complete their Centennial record, not taking into account the large blotches of ink supposed to represent the pair of babies as yet unable to wield a pen. Families of half a dozen attempting to fill the registers were common occurrences. Although but a very small percentage of the visitors registered, yet up to 10 o'clock, when the beginning of the Governor's reception suspended operations for a time, there had been entered in the books 2,716 names, but few of which had Philadelphia recorded opposite them. The accompanying remarks were varied and amusing. Masculine handwriting generally spoke some patriotic phrase or remark eulogistic of the Exhibition or the State Building, while the feminines indulged in a profusion of adjectives, "lovely," "sweet," "awful nice," etc.

The Grand Grab for Lunch.

Those who had their lunch with them were fortunate. The others went for restaurants and entirely cleaned them out. At the Quaker Dairy the gathering of hungry souls was great indeed, and the poor privilege of being permitted to masticate a piece of dyspeptical pie-crust, having first paid the cash for it, rendered a physical endurance of over-taxing rigor necessary. In the Department of Public Comfort there was neither public nor private comfort, yet oyster soup, into which an impoverished bivalve had been placed designedly, disappeared like snow before the sun, at the rate of twenty-five cents a bowl.

Pork and beans in this department were something very fine, indeed. In number, however, the beans were not great, and the supply of pork to individuals was limited. In Lauber's, the French and Turkish cafes, and other of the eating saloons with which the grounds are conveniently dotted—conveniently for ordinary occasions, but almost useless yesterday—the same never-ending multitude cried aloud for bread, beer and coffee, and many of them cried in vain.

The Governor's Reception.

commenced at two o'clock. During the early portion of the ceremony Governor Hartranft never moved his position alongside the table. For every one he had a hearty grasp and a genial smile. Country dame and city belle, wide-eyed granger and pompous dignitary, boys and girls, white and black—he treated them all alike as fast as they trotted by. The right arm was continually extended, the shapely head was continually nodding. To one standing a distance away in the crowd it appeared as though his Excellency was suffering from an aggravated attack of fever and ague. His breast, head and shoulders could alone be seen, and these, in sympathy with his vibrating hand, shook and shivered continuously. But such vigorous handshaking as the sturdy countrymen subjected their Governor to would soon have reduced him to a wasted shadow any fist but the mammoth one of bronze near Centennial Lake. The hand-shakes on the Governor's part became less energetic and his smile had lost its flavor of genuineness. The arm finally dropped by his side and the hand was put obstinately behind his back, graceful nods alone greeting his callers. But it was not for long. A bright-faced farmer, beaming with pride and jolity, extended a mammoth hand, came to a standstill before the Governor and exclaimed and the smile became broader and his arm stood straight out. There was no help for it. The wearied hand again came forth, was again squeezed out of shape, and before it could be restored to its hiding place the next comer had seized it; and thus they kept it vibrating for another quarter of an hour, until a slight break in the line afforded opportunity for retreat. But another sturdily extended hand would call it forth; another break would furnish relief, and so it continued until the end. The guards were compelled to hurry through the people, who were disposed to stand about and crawl along in a bewildered way, and thus many passed through the buildings and never even saw the man they came to see. The members of the staff were so resplendent in gold lace and epaulets that many bowed to them reverently, passing by unnoticed the gentlemen dressed so quietly in society's conventional dress. Many who entered the building did not know what they were to do or what they came to see. Others discovered the Governor, amid his brilliant surroundings, only when they were directly opposite him, and then they would pause and [illegible] express their reverent awe. One [illegible] miss tripped in, dimpled with [illegible] the Governor long [illegible] ion, and then, [illegible] who followed [illegible] he sweet?" [illegible] ed by a bevy of ladies [illegible] lord's predicament, when [illegible] that she fall in line and be "received." "Yes, I have never seen him before," she exclaimed, with a laugh, and pressing into line passed gravely by the Governor with a little nod, but his look of astonishment proved too much for her, and she burst into a laugh. It was amusing to witness the efforts of the country youths to "impress" the Governor.

The people were received at the rate of fifty-two a minute, and thus the Governor must have nodded to or shaken hands with not less than 10,000 people during the one hundred and sixty-five minutes he was standing. The Corinthian Quartette of the American Vocal Union rendered several songs during the reception. Promptly at 5 o'clock the doors of the State Building were closed, and the Governor, with a sigh of relief, walked into his room, where he held an informal reception of the ladies of his staff officers.

A Sight from the Tower.

The reporter who, after the reception was over, took a view of the crowds from the tower, says: "As has always been the case, the southern half of the grounds remained the more densely thronged. The phrase, 'black with humanity' has become somewhat hackneyed, but it was eminently applicable to the five principal avenues of the grounds throughout the entire day. As observed from the towers, these countless thousands marched, countermarched, crossed one another's path, surged and swayed like myriads of flies on acres of sugared surface. While the lower half of the Centennial city was enlivened by music from the chimes, or from the [illegible] Brigade Band, the plashing, dashing, [illegible] pattering, stamping, [illegible] and [illegible]

The [illegible]

A part of the many tens of thousands who were on the Exhibition grounds during the day, of course, left before nightfall, but by half past seven, the hour for beginning the display of fireworks, their places were nearly filled by the thronging thousands, eager to see the great pyrotechnic exhibition. They reached the grounds in all possible ways—by steam cars, horse cars, in private conveyances and on foot. As the hour drew near for the display to begin, the broad open space at Belmont and Elm avenues was fairly blocked up with horse cars, vehicles of every description and hurrying sightseers. The utmost ingenuity was required to avoid accident to persons and property. What promised to result in chaos, however, was in due time happily reduced to regularity and order. Once within the grounds, the impetuous throng were seen to be hurrying along Republican avenue toward the west end of Machinery Hall and the widely-extended open space at the southwestern part of the grounds, for to go in the direction indicated was to gain a better position near George's Hill to see the display of fireworks. Before the hour indicated had arrived the entire southwest part of the grounds was a compact mass of humanity. No less than 175,000 people were within the Centennial enclosure, and to attempt an estimate of the tens of thousands without would task arithmetic to the utmost. The crowds within were also distributed over the greater part of the grounds. Many of the buildings were illuminated, and on their roofs the more fortunate of the sightseers had congregated. The weather was perfect, and a glance at the starry heavens led to the conclusion that nature had anticipated a rivalry with man's power and ingenuity. Promptly as announced the display of fireworks was begun.

From the first salute of aerial maroons to the aerial display of variously colored rockets, the eyes of all were riveted in the direction of George's Hill. The simultaneous illumination of the entire grounds by magnificent colored lights, at the outset of the programme, was particularly effective. The special devices, which were emblematic of heroic deeds and suggestive of patriotic impulses, possessed an interest almost entrancing. One represented George Washington of famous memory, and another, in red, white and blue colors, contained the words:

"Welcome to all Nations."

Large balloons, having dazzling artificial lights, were sent heavenward. As they drifted off toward the northeast colored fireworks were discharged with fine effect. The bursting of the large shells in the midair, setting fire innumerable stars of every color and tint, so lit up the grounds that the effect was suggestive of dazzling sunlight. Mostly all of the large rockets, happily burst just as their downward course was begun, thus sending their showers of stars toward the gazers below with indescribable effect. The programme included nearly every variety of fireworks, from the most simple devices to the most intricate combinations of the kind that human ingenuity and skill have ever devised. The scene was peculiarly impressive. This was especially true toward the last of the programme and at its close. A calcium light of the utmost power had been arranged on the top of Machinery Hall, and as its illuminating rays were turned toward different portions of the grounds in succession the effect was imposing in the extreme. The dazzling artificial light shone upon the lake, fountain and the waving trees, and the result was one of awe and grandeur. The spray of the fountain seemed like spray of burnished silver; the trees, already assuming the varied and beautiful tints of autumn, seemed like a weird fancy picture instead of a beautiful reality. When the final bouquet of rockets had been fired from George's Hill and the enthusiastic Pennsylvanians turned toward the points of exit at the end of Machinery Hall, their upturned faces, suggesting hope, energy and unfailing courage, were typical of the towering strength and resources of the Keystone State.

Leaving the Grounds.

The crowd seemed loth to go, but at last they began to emerge out into Elm avenue and Lansdowne drive, a part in search of the Pennsylvania and Reading railway trains, some striving to find the overburdened street cars, private vehicles and others of every description. Anything in the way of transportation facilities was acceptable, and it was soon seen that a portion of the crowd were doomed to reach the city on foot or wait until the gray dawn would bring relief. Elm avenue was literally jammed; for a time horse-cars, carriages and the people were in almost inextricable confusion. And yet in spite of difficulties which at first seemed insurmountable, good humor and jollity prevailed in every direction. The crowd surged in every direction, crowding into the Transcontinental, the Globe and other hotels. For a time the restaurants in the vicinity did a thriving business, but gradually the crowd grew less, and the careful policemen breathed easier as the imminent danger to life and limb disappeared. The tops of the street cars on both Elm and Belmont avenues were covered with people, while the platforms and interiors of the cars were packed to suffocation; yet the merriment of the crowds only ceased long enough to express sympathy for the poor horses tugging at the load. From the grounds, along Girard avenue bridge and as far east as Twentieth street, a continuous string of cars, cabs, ice wagons and similar vehicles gradually found their way homeward. In other directions the appearance of the street was scarcely different. For hours the steam and horse-cars were taxed to their utmost to finish the work which had been suddenly thrust upon them. The small hours of the morning had come before the last Pennsylvanian, replete with memories of a day which will be historic in the annals of the Keystone State, had found his way home.

CENTENNIAL NOTES.

Accident During the Exhibition of Fireworks—Casualties Reported on the Railways.

PHILADELPHIA, September 29.—During the exhibition of fireworks at the Centennial grounds last night a serious accident was occasioned by the premature firing of some of the works, by which one man was very seriously injured by burning and otherwise. He was hurt so bad that he had to be carried on a stretcher to the Atlas Hotel, where his injuries were attended to.

There are rumors to-day of serious and even fatal accidents on some of the railroads last evening in the movement of the vast crowd from the grounds, but they cannot be traced to reliable sources.

It is announced by the Secretary of the Centennial Commission that the written reports of the judges upon which awards to exhibitors are based will be published in groups as approved by the commission, and as speedily as they can be prepared. The report for each group will be prefaced by a statement of principles upon which the system of awards is based, with the names and rules for the guidance of the group jury. Every exhibitor receiving an award will be entitled upon application to a copy of the report upon his exhibit.

A large Centennial excursion from Detroit and vicinity arrived this evening.

General Horvatovich made a flank movement and occupied the heights in the rear of the Turkish position.

It is stated the Turkish army is now threatened on three sides, namely, General Tchernayeff, with the bulk of the Servian army, threatens their front, General Popovich their left wing, and General Harvatovich their rear. The fighting lasted till eight last night, and was resumed this morning.

Four men escaped with severe cuts and bruises. The two others are still under the ruins, and are probably dead. The cause of the accident was the giving way of the third floor, on which were stored 80,000 pounds of tobacco. The ruins immediately caught fire and are still burning. The loss on property is $30,000.

Later.—It has since been discovered that seven men were buried in the ruins. Only three were taken out alive.

Nothing less than twenty feet of depth at mean lower water was observed. The divers have been examining the reef, and report a thorough break-up.

THE FIELD OF POLITICS.

Nebraska Republican State Convention.

LINCOLN, NEB., September 29.—The following is a synopsis of the resolutions adopted by the Republican State Convention to-day:

First. Endorse the nominations made at Cincinnati, and pledge Nebraska for Hayes and Wheeler by a large majority.

Second. Endorse the platform of principles enunciated by the Republican National Convention at Cincinnati.

Third. Affirm that the Republican party stand pledged to the principles of equality of all citizens before the law, without regard to color or nationality.

Fourth. Commend the legislation of Congress, the orders of President Grant, and the action of the Attorney General in his letter of instructions to United States Marshals to enforce the laws and protect citizens in the performance of their political rights.

Fifth. Unhesitatingly endorse the financial policy of the Government in the successful efforts to restore public credit and maintain the national honor, and the late fiscal arrangements by which three hundred millions bonds have been placed at four and one-half per cent. interest, and an equivalent amount of six per cent. bonds retired, thus saving four and one half millions interest money annually, meet the approval of the Republican party.

Sixth. Desire to express abhorrence and place the seal of condemnation on the element in the Democratic party which justifies the slaughter at Hamburg, S. C., which looks with complacency on the butcheries at Coushatta, La., which approves the shotgun policy in Mississippi, which endorses the displacement of Union soldiers and establishes Confederates in positions, and which sent to Congress violent, bitter foes of the restored Republic.

Seventh. Disdainfully reject the statements of the Democratic platform made in St. Louis, in a resolution introduced recommending that roads connecting with the Union Pacific Railroad be entitled to the same advantages without discrimination of any kind in favor of the business of any such connecting railroads of said Union Pacific, that the Union Pacific ought to carry business over its line from whatever point received at a pro rate of its own through tariff on similar business.

Eighth. That we favor such financial policy as to enable holders of legal tenders to receive on demand their face value in coin, but we oppose at present their retirement from circulation or repeal of the legal tender act.

THE SPORTING WORLD.

Aquatic.

ITHACA, N. Y., September 29.—A very large and enthusiastic meeting of the various classes of Cornell University was held here to-night. It was decided to send a challenge to the winners in the Cambridge-Oxford race, which occurs in March next. The challenge will be for fours or eights, with a coxswain, as the Englishmen decide, and for a four mile race over the regular course from Putney to Mortlake.

BREVITIES.

····The Road Committee of Councils was to have met yesterday afternoon, but failed to get a quorum.

····A slight fire occurred in a frame house near McCallin's stable, on Wilson street, yesterday morning.

····The Tradesmens' National Bank, of this city, has been designated a Government depository, in lieu of the depository at the Custom House which closes to-day.

····An old man from Sewickley was robbed of his silver watch and chain at the corner of Robinson and Federal streets, Allegheny, last evening, while the procession was passing that point.

····It took two days trotting and eight heats to decide the 2:33 race at Parker's. Redbird won; Versailles, driven by McKelvy, of this city, took second, Sleepy Tom third and Maggie fourth money.

····A hearing was to have been had last evening in the case of Garraty, Faun and Roberts, who were accused of riot in smashing up McGovern's saloon, on Penn avenue, but McGovern refusing to prosecute they were released.

····Mrs. Christina Selzer, the old lady who was injured last Saturday on Penn street by being run over by a buggy, died of her injuries at 2 o'clock yesterday morning. The Coroner will hold an inquest on the body this evening.

····To-day the U. S. Depository at this place will cease business. Messrs. A. M. Cameron, William Witherow, bookeeper, and Ritchie, night watchman, will lose their positions. In the office of Surveyor Steel there will only remain the Deputy Surveyor and Messenger.

····A Pittsburgher on his way to Philadelphia, is believed to have fallen or jumped from the platform of one of the cars, when the train was passing over the bridge across the Susquehanna at Havre de Grace. He was last seen just before the train started across the bridge.

····A great many persons visited the office of the Chief of Police yesterday, to examine the kit of burglars' tools found the day before. Among the visitors were several bank officers and safe makers. Most of these were of the opinion that the safe could not have been opened inside of 48 hours.

····The Leader seems to be unaware that shifting engines at the railroad depot yards have no cowcatchers, but have lights at each end, so that it does not matter whether they run backward or forward. Mr. Paul, the Car Inspector, is just as likely, would have been killed, if the engine had been going the other end foremost.

····Policeman Snyder arrested Mary Ann Pryor a few days since on a charge of theft. The Grand Jury failed to find an indictment against her and she was discharged. She now makes an information [against] Snyder, charging him with assault- [illegible] around the room, slap- [illegible] her clothes, [illegible]

[illegible] through the city [illegible] to little Washington. On [illegible] which came the President, were also [illegible] Thaw, John Scott and J. N. McCullough. The latter officials were on the train only by accident, and the idea that the railroad officials and the President had some ulterior object in traveling together, is without foundation.

····John Ward was arrested at Connellsville Thursday and brought to this city yesterday, charged with passing spurious bank notes. It is alleged that he passed on James Carney and James Purcell, of Port Perry, the advertisements of a cotton manufacturing firm, made in imitation of five dollar U. S. Treasury notes. He was held in the sum of $3,000 for a hearing on the 5th proximo, and in default was committed to jail.

····The Parker Daily says: "Officer Cummings did a good thing by arresting 'Billy the Gun,' alias Frank Holland, on Tuesday night. He has been ordered out of town twice, on previous occasions, but took considerable chances when he came back. The police officer had watched him all the evening, and finally seeing he was cultivating too close an acquaintance with some strangers who were buying pools at the Frisbee House, took him to the lock-up. The police of Pittsburgh would do well to get his photograph while he is in the Workhouse. He is the meanest kind of a sneak thief."

····Mr. Harvey Jeffries, who lives near Uniontown, Pa., while removing a pile of rails a few days ago uncovered a terrapin. In 1852, not one hundred yards from the same locality, Mr. Jeffries found this terrapin, with "W. B." (for Wm. Barton) carved upon its back. Mr. Jeffries cut the initials "H. J., 1852," upon its back, and let it go. In 1855 he found it again in the same locality, and cut "H. C. J., 1855," upon its back, and turned it loose again. Last week he found it again, and his son carved his initials and date and let it go. At what time Mr. Barton cut his initials on the terrapin is not known, as the year was not on it.

····Among the residents of Allegheny county who are included in the roll of living veteran legislators of Pennsylvania, a reunion of which took place at Harrisburg on Thursday, are Hons. T. J. Bigham, Alex. Hilands, John Murray, Marshal Swartzwelder, John M. Sullivan, William Espy, Jonas R. McClintock, John Miller, and Robert C. Walker, now of Denver. Col. Jas. K. Kerr died recently. Adjacent counties have the following representatives living: Charles A. Black, Waynesburg; John Cummins, Indiana; D. M. Courtney, New Castle; John R. Edie, Somerset; J. B. Gordon, Waynesburg; R. T. THE FLAMING TORCH.

An Imposing Demonstration Last Night in Allegheny—Over Four Thousand Men in the the Ranks—Thronging Multitudes Upon the Streets—Order of the Procession.

The largest torchlight procession in Allegheny City since the opening of the campaign illuminated its crowded thoroughfares last night. Had it been as agreeable under foot as it was over head the processionists would have had a comparatively pleasant time in their march, but the rain that fell so copiously yesterday morning made the streets so muddy that the intermittent sun had but little effect in putting them in good condition for pedestrians. Still they were not disagreeable enough to prevent all the clubs of Allegheny from turning out in their maximum strength, which they did, and, imposing as the demonstration would have been had it consisted of them alone, it was materially added to by several Pittsburgh clubs which accepted the general invitation that had been extended and joined in the parade. It is hardly worth while to state that processions of this character are more attractive to the masses than any other, because any one who is in the habit of making use of his eyes can see that such is the case. And it does not require a labored search to discover the reason. If there could be a public demonstration prettier than these long and solid lines of men with flaming torches, and arrayed in caps, capes and leggins, and moving with military precision, it has yet to be devised. Of course the crowds last night on every street along which the clubs passed were immense. A large number of the dwellings were nicely decorated with Chinese lanterns, flags, festoons, wreaths, &c. By half-past eight o'clock the line had been formed with the Allegheny division on Robinson street, west of Federal, and the visiting clubs on Robinson street, east of Federal. No time was uselessly spent, and the manner in which each club dropped into its assigned position showed that the arrangements were much more satifactory, and that greater harmony prevailed than was the case on a Friday night a few weeks ago, when an effort was made to have just such a turn-out as last night's. The procession moved in the following order:

Chief Marshal, Staff and Aids.

Three companies, A, B and C, under command of Capts. D. Powers, W. Tompkins and Wm. Kitchen, of the Fourth ward, Allegheny, Pioneers, numbering 220 voters, led by the Robinson Cornet Band.

Third ward, Pittsburgh, marching club, 48 men, under command of Captain Kennedy.

T. M. Bayne marching club, attired in Continental uniforms, 58 men, Capt. McCombs, led by the Reserve Silver Cornet Band.

Ninth and Eleventh wards, Allegheny, horsemen, fifty men, and two marching clubs from the same wards, 200 strong, headed by the Masonic band.

Sixth ward, Allegheny, club, 100 men, Capt. D. R. Callan. Sixth ward, Allegheny, juniors, 40 lads, Capt. William Simpson.

Colored club, Capt Smith's, 50 men, from the Fifth and Sixth wards, Allegheny.

Millvale club, 70 men, Capt. S. H. Johnson.

Eighth ward, Allegheny, 110 men, Capt. Reno, followed by the Eighth ward cadets, 50 boys in handsome uniforms, led by the American band.

Grotesquely dressed men on horseback and in wagons carrying comic banners.

Germania Band and the Third ward, Allegheny, club, 140 men, Capt. Murphy.

Third ward juniors, Capt. Aiken, 65 boys.

Third ward, colored club, Capt. Taylor, 75 men. Another junior club of boys of 12 and 13 years of age to the number of about forty.

Excelsior Cornet Band at the head of the Second ward, Allegheny, club, 100 men, Capt. Edward Armstrong. The uniforms of this club were specially noteworthy.

Allegheny Grand Central club, 100 men, Capt. John W. Jenkins, and the C. P. Stinson colored glee club.

Grand Central Battalion, Capt. W. C. Cooke, three companies of 100 men each.

Seventh ward, Allegheny, third district club, 70 men, Capt. Lawrence.

The A. P. Callow Band and the Fifth ward, Allegheny, club, 91 men, Capt. Geo. Bardoner. Also Fifth ward junior club, 30 boys, arrayed in white plug hats and red shirts.

Allegheny Veteran Boys in blue, 200 men, Capt. McGraw.

Young Men's Republican Club, 120 men, Capt. J. D. Walker.

Allegheny Veteran Club, 50 men, Mr. Abe. Patterson acting as Marshal.

Fourth ward junior club, 56 boys.

PITTSBURGH DIVISION.

Chief Marshal and Staff.

Duquesne Drum Corps, followed by the Ninth ward battalion, 190 men, Capt. James Boyd. Ninth ward juniors.

The First ward club, and drum corps, with Twelfth ward club, 82 men, Capt. H. Adams.

B. F. Kennedy club, 50 men, Capt. E. Y. Breck. Second ward club, 100 men, Captain Gus Braun.

Thirty-second ward pioneers, 50 men, with lamps in their caps and carrying banners inscribed for Hayes, Wheeler and Errett. Drum corps, and the Old Grand Central Colored club, 125 men, Captain John Hatfield.

Fourth ward club, 50 men, Captain Denny McKnight. Seventh ward club, 90 men, Capt. John T. McFarlane. Eighth ward club, 100 men, Captain H. Lowe.

Eleventh ward cadets, 30 boys, Capt. Smith. The Thos. H. Hunter Glee club, of the Eleventh ward. The Eleventh ward battalion, 300 men, Capt. T. H. Hunter. The Eleventh ward Invincibles, colored, 114 men, Capt. J. N. Richards.

Union township Rangers, 50 horsemen, Capt. Ralph White. Eighteenth Regiment band. Thirty-third ward club, 75 men, Capt. Robt. Ross, carrying a banner inscribed "Tilden's grounds of patriotism during the war were coffee-[illegible]ds."

[illegible] club, 84 young men, [Tw]enty-sixth ward pioneers, Capt. James O'Neill.

South [Ce]ntral Cadet club, 40 lads, Capt. Geo. C. Wible.

The rear or left of the procession, the second place of honor, was brought up by the Fourth ward, Allegheny, Minute men, numbering 116, under command of Capt. James Archibald, and led by a brass band.

The very best order was observed along the entire route, and the closest observation failed to disclose even one man in a partial state of intoxication. Many of the clubs carried handsome flags, and others were distinguished by transparencies bearing appropriate and in many cases keen and sarcastic though no less truthful inscriptions. It may be that last night's will prove the crowning demonstration of the campaign in Allegheny, for the reason that it would be difficult to get up one that would be better or that would draw to it more general attention, or more flattering comments.

ELAINE'S LAST TRIUMPH.

Another, and the Highest Proof of Superiority—"Proclaim it to the World."

Elaine has long been recognized as the most brilliant and safest illuminating oil in the world, and now its superiority is further demonstrated by the decision of the judges at the Centennial Exposition. It was there placed in competition with all the leading oils in the country, and yet it carried off the only premium that was awarded. The victory was complete. The first news received by Messrs. Warden & Oxnard, manufacturers of the Elaine, in this city, was contained in the following brief but explicit telegram:

PHILADELPHIA, September 28, 1876.
Warden & Oxnard, Pittsburgh:
Elaine awarded premium. Proclaim it to the world.
D. C. HERBST.

Subsequently Mr. Herbst, who is in charge of the exhibit at Philadelphia, gave a little fuller details in the following dispatch:

PHILADELPHIA, September 29.
Warden & Oxnard, Pittsburgh:
Our premium is for the best illuminating oil. The only one awarded.
D. C. HERBST.

This result—though the highest endorsement that could be given—was what might have been expected. Elaine has stood crucial tests in other instances, and has always demonstrated its superiority. About eighteen months ago, when the U. S. Light House Board desired to secure an illuminating oil and advertised for samples, Elaine was put to the test with samples of fourteen other kinds of oil, and was adjudged to be the best and adopted by the Board. At our home Exposition, last year, it carried off the highest premium—the gold medal given only to articles of extraordinary merit. It thus stands without a rival, and the verdict at Philadelphia but emphasizes what has been the popular verdict rendered long ago. We congratulate Messrs. Warden & Oxnard on this new triumph, and as Pittsburghers rejoice with them over this fresh testimonial to the great superiority of Elaine—the peerless "light of the world."

Pittsburghers who have yet to visit the Exposition will find the Elaine headquarters in the main hall, section No. 49, near the central entrance. Many varieties of oil are exhibited, a pumping well is seen in full operation, and beautiful samples of the crude and refined article are exhibited. This is the most brilliant display in that department, and is especially interesting now that Elaine has swept the field.

FALL OF A CRANE.

Serious Injury to Two Little Boys in Allegheny.

About two o'clock yesterday afternoon, while a number of men were engaged hoisting a heavy piece of metal in the alley in the rear of Carlin's foundry, on Sandusky and Robinson streets, Allegheny, with a crane, the latter broke, and one of the large pieces of timber that compose it fell upon two little boys named Burke and Welsh, aged respectively eight and ten years, knocking them down and injuring them severely about the head and breast. They were both removed to their homes near by, in an insensible condition, and Dr. B. B. Smith summoned. No bones were broken, but they were injured internally. Their hurts are of a rather serious nature.

Amusements This Afternoon and Evening.

The customary matinees will be held this afternoon at all the places of amusement. Milton Nobles will appear in "The Phœnix" at the Opera House, and at Library Hall John T. Raymond will enact the role of Col. Mulberry Sellers, in "The Gilded Age." At the Novelty Theater Julian Kent and his tame bear will delight the galleries in the startling sensation, "Wild Bill." This play is preceded by a variety entertainment. All these performances will be repeated this evening.

On Monday night at Library Hall the company that has been engaged for the New Orleans Varieties, one of the leading theatres of the country, will produce "The Gascon," with Chas. Pope, Rosa Rand and Joseph Wheelock in prominent characters. At the Opera House Katherine Randolph, one of the most charming actresses on the American stage, will appears a Galatea in that exquisite play "Pygmalion and Galatea."

KING, REED & CO.

SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 30, 1876.

PETROLEUM at Antwerp 50f.

BONDS at Frankfort, new 5s, 103¼.

GOLD closed in New York yesterday at 110½.

THE war in the East seems to have been renewed with considerable vigor,—if the veracious telegraphic correspondents are to be relied upon.

BLAINE and INGERSOLL are to be in Chicago just after the close of the Indiana campaign, and the political managers there fear they can't "hire a hall" large enough to accommodate the crowd that will desire to sit at the feet of these political Gamaliels for the evening.

JUDGE EWING yesterday gave an interesting opinion concerning the law with reference to carrying concealed weapons. His Honor seems to hold, and quite properly we think too, that there are circumstances which justify and require the carrying of a weapon of defense. Probably no law has worked more to the advantage of the rowdy element than this one, for every rough violates the law by carrying the weapons, and so has the law abiding citizen at a great disadvantage. It is really a law which is more honored in the breach than in the observance.

THE torchlight procession in Allegheny last night was a brilliant success—both as to the numbers in the ranks and the enthusiasm manifested by the citizens along the line of march. The managers deserve the highest praise for the character of their demonstration. Our Republican friends across the river are evidently thoroughly awake and harmonious in all their work. They are touching elbows and marching under a banner that will be illumined in November by the glories of a greater victory than has ever yet been recorded in the annals of the great things done for the party in that stronghold of Republicanism.

MERCANTILE agencies, like other human institutions, are not infallible; but it becomes a little rough on them when they have to pay for their fallibility, as was the case with a Toronto agency, which has just been put through the courts. The agency, represented a retail dealer as sound, and a wholesale dealer thereupon sold the retailer a bill of goods amounting to $524. The wholesale dealer's prospects of getting paid were, shortly after this transaction, rendered unequivocally dubious by the absconding of the retail dealer. Thereupon the wholesale dealer recovered his money at law from the mercantile agency, and a higher court has affirmed the judgment. The mercantile agency now seeks to evade its responsibility in the matter by a last appeal to the Canadian supreme tribunal. It is an interesting case for business men as well as the agencies.

JUDGE SINNOTT, in his defense of TILDEN, indicated that it was optional whether a person made income tax returns, or allowed an estimate to be made by the Assessor, and, with fifty per cent. added, paid the amount. This optional idea having been put aside by the Rhode Island court, it is in order to rectify TILDEN's defense, in accordance with the facts and law. The bearing of this decision on TILDEN's case is to determine that his excuse for not rendering returns after 1862 amounts to nothing, and he is simply liable for whatever his income was. Hence, in order to meet the demands of the law, he must state what his income was; and if it was more than $15,000 he has defrauded the Government out of just the amount of tax so represented. It may yet prove a very unfortunate thing for TILDEN that he evaded the law.

THE religious papers are not alone in their adverse crsticisms upon the boorishness of Gen. NEWTON, as displayed in his reply to Hon. WM. E. DODGE. Every right toned secular paper, whatever its opinions may be as to the Sabbath question, condemns Gen. NEWTON's display of ill-manners. The Boston Globe, one of the most liberal of newspapers, says: "Gen. NEWTON's retort was a gratuitous insult, the most offensive part of which was the assumption of superiority on his part, as if he were a potentate who was not to be addressed save in terms of humility, and whose conduct could not be brought into question by such presumptuous mortals as the President of the New York Chamber of Commerce. This, however, was but on a par with the general spirit of too many officials of the United States. The insolence of office is a common thing in this country—in short, almost universal. If one of the sovereign people want to get snubbed or insulted, he can usually be accommodated by asking the simplest question at the nearest Government office."

THE swift change of events makes it difficult to fully keep pace with occurrences connected with the Servian war. General TCHERNAYEFF seems to be master of the situation—both military and diplomatic. He is full of war, and very adverse to peace. He is evidently not a very diplomatic General, as his idea of making Prince MILAN King, meets with earnest and serious opposition from Russia and Austria. It is feared by those powers that it means the organization of a Sclavic kingdom, which will prove a rallying point for the Sclavic element of both Russia and Austria. This would prove a serious blow to them, as it would unsettle the loyalty of the Sclavic element in their own Governments. Of course neither Russia nor Austria would, or could submit to this. Hence they refuse to consent to the organization of a Sclavic kingdom, and insist that Prince MILAN shall remain just as he is. It is evident that the Prince had no objection whatever to becoming a King, but he has repressed his ambition in response to the somewhat positive suggestions of the Great Powers. Should he continue to do this, and the Porte disagree to the terms of peace, Russia may be found a great helper, in the continuance of the war.

IT is pretty generally conceded that at last we have obtained a good foothold in England for our export trade, and that a revolution has been wrought that is most gratifying and profitable to Americans. Observant business men of both countries now admit that the shipments to America from England are not one-third what they were three or four years ago. The English ascribe this to the protective tariff, but recognize that many branches of business have been started here which will stop further importations. American agricultural implements are being imported and are displacing domestic, because they are "lighter, tougher and more tasty," and Birmingham merchants confess that many goods they used to send to the States they are now importing from thence. Something of the decline of Birmingham trade with this country is attributable to the causes that have interfered with business everywhere. Something is due to a change in the nature of trade—the export from this country to Great Britain of articles previously imported—while the earlier exports of cotton, grain and provisions are holding all they recovered, and steadily enlarging. This points in the right direction, and there is nothing in the condition of Great Britain or the Continent that suggests a change. The further increase there may be slow, but it will be sure, until the skill and strength that have done and are doing so much do more, and make Great Britain as good an outlet for our manufactures as any country is.

THE Democratic press unwisely show that the interests of their party are in the direction of business depression, by referring to the general statement of the press that business is reviving as though it were a Republican campaign plea. The New York Herald will not be classed by any one as a Republican journal, yet it editorially says of the situation: "It is remarkable that a general revival of trade should take place in the midst and heat of a Presidential canvass, when usually, even in good times, trade suffers and becomes slack. If this business revival were felt only in the Eastern cities it might properly be called one of the effects of the Centennial Exhibition. But trade is awakening and confidence reviving sensibly West as well as East. St. Louis journals note a large increase of country buyers and a generally active trade. Chicago, Cincinnati and other Western cities report greater activity in trade than has been known since 1873. From New Orleans we hear that the new cotton crop coming into market has a marked effect upon business. New England reports hopeful efforts toward establishing an export trade. Wool, which has been dull for a long time, finds sale again. The Pittsburgh papers speak cheerfully, even of the iron trade, which has been the most depressed of all. There are, it seems, indications of an improved and improving business in iron." Thus from all points of the country, the same intelligence comes,—that business is reviving, and trade prospects brightening. Thus we have evidence that this is not a Republican campaign story, but a solid fact that cannot be denied.

THE FIFTEENTH AMENDMENT.

The Attorney General of the United States recently issued a letter of instructions to the several United States Marshals, defining the scope of their duties, relative to the enforcement of the Fifteenth amendment, entitling all citizens to the right to vote, and the Secretary of War gave directions to General SHERMAN to so dispose of all available troops as that the Marshals could avail themselves of them, in case of need. The instructions referred to clearly set forth that no interference was to be had with any one, as to the exercise of the ballot, the duty of the authorities being to protect all who sought to exercise this right in doing it. This is the action against which the Democratic press and orators protest with such ceaseless vigor. Has it ever occurred to them that this outcry amounts to an effort to defeat the Fifteenth Amendment. That it would be inoperative in Southern States,—a dead letter,—unless enforced by the military power of the Government, is proven beyond the peradventure of doubt. Mississippi is clearly and undeniably Republican on a fair vote; yet the colored element was driven from the polls, or so terrorized before election day, that they dared not appear to vote. Arkansas and Georgia were changed, as to their political attitude, by the same means. It is perfectly palpable that the same game is being practiced in South Carolina. Thus the purpose of the Democracy, to employ terrorism and murder to further the accomplishment of political ends, is so evident, and unconcealed, that the Government would be culpable were it to allow these outrages to be continued.

But until a case appears in which the Federal authorities violate the law, or act unfairly and arbitrarily, what ground is there for the violent complaints being made by the Democratic press? The precise object had in view by the Government is to secure the full liberty of the citizen in the canvass preceding the election and at the election; to protect the right of public meeting, of free speech, of free access to the polls, and to prevent the perpetration of fraud on the part of the officials charged with the counting of the ballots. Beyond this, the Attorney General's instructions have no significance. Yet we might suppose, from all that is said, that the Administration has formed a conspiracy against the Democratic party, and will put a guard of soldiers at the polls to prevent Democrats from approaching them. Such is the outlook, as represented from their standpoint. But so far as this from being true, that we do not suppose a soldier will be seen at any polling place where the law is observed. The Government has simply employed precautions that are necessary, and that it would be criminal not to employ. It has sought, in the fairest, and most unpartisan spirit, to care for those who are oppressed, and see that every person shall freely exercise the right of suffrage. It does not propose to inquire into the political views of any, but to see that all exercise their rights under the Constitution. This is what the howl is against; and we submit that the outcry proves the purpose of the Democratic party to be vicious and wrong. They aim to gain elections by violence and fraud. There is, no doubt whatever, that the whole scheme of that party at the South is to drive the colored people from the polls, by threats, murders, and general violence, and thus to posess themselves of the control of State governments, and if possible of a majority of the electoral votes. This is the conspiracy the Government has been called upon to meet; and it simply says that it will see that every citizen is allowed to vote freely, and without terrorism. If the majority of the votes thus cast favor the Democracy, well; but there shall be fairness, at all events.

NASBY ON INGERSOLL.

The Corners Afflicted by the Gross Infidelity of Col. Ingersoll, of Illinois, now on the Stump for Hayes, Hold a Meeting to Denounce Him—Joe Bigler Makes Trouble.

CONFEDRIT X ROADS,
WICH IS IN THE STATE UV KENTUCKY,
September 22d, 1876.

The depth uv wickidniss hez been soundid by the Ablishnists at last. They hev Bob Ingersoll' of Illinoy, on the stump shreekin for Hayes, and again our reform candidate, Samyoel Tilden. To say I am shocked is to state the state uv my feelins mildly. Don't they know that Ingersoll is a infiddle? Don't they know that he don't beleeve in reveeled religion? Don't they know that he haint no vital piety?

I told Deekin Pogram uv it, and when I explained to him wat an infiddle wuz he wuz shocked.

"Wat!" sighed the Deekin, "not bleeve in religion? Well, I'm d—d! Let's hold a meetin and protest agin the cuss."

The Deekin's suggestion struck me ez bein an exceedinly good one, and I determined to act upon it. I hed mail to get thro with first, and that took me neerly all day. I cooden't stop even to rebook infidelity, till I did my biznis. I hed received $1,000 from the Noo York Committy to be yoozed in sending voters to Injeany—I had to reed two letters from John Morrisey instructin me how to yooze the money, and I hed to find quarters for an Irish brooser, who hed bin pardoned out uv the State's prison to assist in this campane, and who hed bin sent on to show us how to work repeeters to the best advantage. Afore I cood assist in robookin Republikin infidelity and castin a stigma on religion, I hed to get all this out uv the way.

I called the meetin at Bascom's, our Church not havin been opened for religious meetins sence Johnston went out in 1869. It wuz a lively meetin. When the Corners wuz informed uv the impiety and irreligion uv this pet uv Republikinism, there wuz an indignashen manifested that wuz trooly encurridgin. They wuz all convinst that ef such a contemmer uv religion wuz permittid to go loose, without rebook, there wuz cussid little hope uv Republikin institooshens, and after drinkin around two or three times we organized, I takin the cheer.

I remarkt that it wuz no ordinary occasion thet hed called us together. Our liberties wuz in danger from the Republikin party, and our religion from the shockin infidelity uv one uv its cheef advocates. We may lose our liberties, but shel we lose our religion?

"Not by a d—d site!" ejackilated the awjence, ez one man.

I then presented a series of resolooshuns, ez follows:

WAREAS, The Rebublikin party hev, on the stump, advocatin its heresies, Bob Ingersoll uv Illinoy; and

WAREAS, Sed Ingersoll is an infiddle uv the most radical stamp, a man wich denies the trooths uv holy writ—

"Wat is Holy Writ?" asked a dozen.

I had to stop and explain to em that Ingersoll wantid to destroy the Bible, wich infooriatid em.

"Ain't we to be allowed to hev our regler township Bible? Wat'll we hev to sware witnisses on in hoss cases?" they indignantly demandid. "Go on! go on! down with the infiddle!"

When we come to order agin, Josef askt permission to make a few remarks. He sympathized with the meetin hartily. He knowd Ingersoll, and knowd him to be an infiddle and unbeleever. Feelin that he must add his unworthy testimony agin sich a man and sich doctrines he wood—but ef the meetin wantid to heer him they must git away from the bar.

It took me some time to git em away, for a Looisville drummer for a likker house happened to come in for a drink, and the entire meetin had gathered around him expectin to be askt to take suthin. It wuz a bitter thing for me to stay away with sich an opportoonity afore me, but "Dooty first," is my motto and I stick it out.

The Looisville man havin treeted the crowd twice, and there bein no show that he wood do it agin, they reassembled.

Josef then remarkt that sympathizin with the objicks uv the meetin, he had prepared some resolooshens hisself, wich he shood offer, with the remark that ef he wuz interruptid he wood to-wunst lick the interrupter out uv his boots in less than a minit:

WAREAS, The Republikin party is lissenin, jist now, to Bob Ingersoll, uv Illinoy a infiddle, wich denies the trooths uv revelashen, therefore, be it

Resolved, That Bob Ingersoll in denyin the divinity uv our Savior, inflix a mortal stab at the Democratic party, to wich a savior is, especially, a necessity.

Resolved, That Bob Ingersoll in denyin the divinity uv our Saviour, hurts our feeling ez Democrats, ez it wuz for us, mostly, that he come into the world and died.

WAREAS, The appearance uv sich a man on the stump is calkelatid to outrage the feelins uv the Corners, and tare up the bulworks uv sosiety, therefore be it

Resolved, That the eleckshun uv Tilden and Hendrix is a necesity, and that after this exhibition uv infidelity on the part uv Ingersoll, every Republiken which don't immejitly jine us and cast his ballot for Tilden and reform, is unworthy uv salvashen.

Afore we took a vote on the resolooshens, we adjourned to take a drink, and while a takin uv it, Joe Bigler and Pollock come in. I shuddered when I saw em, for in all the twelve yeers them carpit-baggers hev bin here I never saw em without antissipatin trubble, and I wuz never yit disappintid.

Resolved, That when Bob Ingersoll denies the trooth uv one part of the holy skripters, he denies it all, and that when he shakes our faith in the savin uv the theef upon the cross, he destroys the only hope the average Democrat hez in a blessed immortality beyond the grave.

Resolved, That when Bob Ingersoll denies the necessity uv a place uv fucher punishment which shel be eternal, it shows that he hez never lived in the Corners, and is therefore ignorent uv wat the requirements uv the sitooashen really is.

Resolved, That Bob Ingersoll ought to be immediately suppressed.

These resolooshens, Bigler's and all, wuz passed yoonanimously and we wuz agoin on with other biznis when the Looisville man happenin to come in agin, the meetin all rushed to the bar so ez to be in time ef he shood invite the crowd to another drink. The fool treetin twice or three times, it wuz with difficulty I got em back to bizinis. I hed another resolooshen wich I hed givin Deekin Pogram to present, but the old saint wuz too much overcome by so much gratooitus likker, and he sunk prostrate on the floor, afore he cood reed a word uv em. Then, jist ez Capt. M'Pelter wuz about makin some remarks agin the alarmin increese uv infidelity in consekence uv toleratin sich men ez Ingersoll, the Looisville man assaulted him for pickin his pockit uv his handkercher, while at the bar, and the brooser that Morrisey had sent me jinin the skrimmage without knowin where, or wich to strike, the meetin ended in a skrimmage that wreckt Bascom's place. I managed in the row to git the Looisville man's hat and coat, wich he hed injudishusly thrown off, for my share. (I shel stump for Tilden and reform in that coat,) and got out to put em away in a safe place.

When I returned the entire meetin wuz snorin soundly on the floor, for they hed got at a barl uv Bascom's, an it hed finished em.

I writ out the resolooshuns denouncin Ingersoll's infidelity on Deekin Pogram's back, for every table wuz bustid, and sent em to Looisville to be published, and went home. It won't do for the Ablishnists to put any infiddles on us.

PROFESSIONAL NOTICE.
Drs. Jordan and Davieson
Principals of the Institution of Anatomy, 807 Chestnut street, Philadelphia, Lecturers on Anatomy, Physiology and Science, inform their friends and patients that they have again opened a branch office for the practice of their profession at No. 2 EIGHTH STREET, PITTSBURGH, PA., where one of the firm may be confidentially consulted, more especially in all those cases of diseases and debility, for the treatment of which they are so justly celebrated. It is too well known that hundreds, nay thousands suffer from the effects of early indiscretion and seek in vain for relief, for none but the educated physician who has made these subjects a specialty is likely to succeed in restoring the patient to health and strength. To all such Drs. Jordan and Davieson offer certain and speedy relief, and undertake no cases but those in which they are able to guarantee a safe, certain and permanent cure. Their important Medical Work may be had from their office, No. 2 Eighth street, on receipt of 25 cents, and also as usual from their head establishment, 1625 Filbert street, Philadelphia. Hours of consultation from 10 A. M. to 2 P. M., and from 5 P. M. to 8 P. M. Sundays from 10 A. M. to 2 P. M. Every case is strictly confidential. d&8

FINANCIAL.

Latest Advices Concerning Money and Stock Matters.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
SATURDAY, September 30, 1876.

Local finances exhibited no new features yesterday. The holiday of Thursday made work accumulate on the bankers' hands yesterday, and they were, therefore, somewhat busier than usual, but this did not arise from any unusual activity in the regular channels. Discounts for good paper were easy—desirable borrowers being rather sought after. Rates of discount, however, were not changed.

BONANZA DIVIDENDS.

On the 15th inst., the fifth monthly dividend of the California was paid. In the last five months dividends have been paid by that mine amounting to $5,400,000 out of a total product of but $8,345 000. That is, 65 per cent. of the gross product went as profits to stockholders, to say nothing of a large surplus which has been carried forward to next month's account. The Northern Belle mine paid its sixteenth consecutive monthly dividend on the 15th inst. This mine has returned $800,000 to its proprietors in sixteen months.

DECLINE OF STOCKS IN PHILADELPHIA.

The Philadelphia Ledger reports that:

The decline in prices of leading stocks in this market has been very general, and, in some instances, quite decided, though not at all equaling the decline of the more speculative stocks at New York. For instance, as compared with prices at the first of the current year, Pennsylvania Railroad has declined 5 per share, or equal to 10 per cent.; Lehigh Valley Railroad 10 per share, or equal to 20 per cent.; Lehigh Navigation 19 per share, or equal to 38 per cent.; Reading Railroad 10 per share, or equal to 20 per cent.; Philadelphia & Erie Railroad 4 per share, or equal to 8 per cent.; Hestonville Passenger Railway 18 per share, or equal to 36 per cent., and the passenger railway shares generally 20 to 40 per cent.

Condition of the Markets at Home and Abroad.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
FRIDAY, September 29, 1876.

Trade continues fairly active, and it is worthy of notice that nearly all the leading articles of merchandise are hardening in value. All kinds of Grain is scarce and firm, and the same is true of Flour. Butter, Eggs and Cheese, are in good demand and firm at quotations, with an upward tendency. Pig Iron continues firm, with a steady consumptive demand, and Petroleum has stiffened up again.

APPLES—There is an increasing demand but no change in prices, $1a1.50 ₩ bbl.

BEANS—There has been some inquiry during the past day or two, and several sales are reported at $1a1 15 per bu.

BUTTER—Sales of prime to choice solid packed, 23a25c; do. roll, 26a28 do. creamery, 32a35c.

CHEESE—Prime Ohio quoted at 11½a12 to the wholesale trade, and 12½a13c in a jobbing way.

CRANBERRIES—$10a12 per bbl.

CHESTNUTS—$7a8 per bu.

DRIED FRUIT—We can report several small arrivals of Apples within the past few days, but as yet there has been no call for dried fruit of any kind, nor is it likely that there will be for some time to come.

EGGS—The market, although quiet, may be quoted steady at 19a20c.

FLOUR—There is a continued fair demand, and the market is strong in tone but unchanged in price. Dealers report that winter wheat flours are easier to buy in first hands than springs, and we look for an increased consumption of the former here at the expense of the latter. We repeat former quotations:

Red winters	$6,25a6,75	"
Amber wheat flours	6,50a7,00	"
Spring wheat flours	6,25a6,75	"
Patent process and fancy white wheat	8,00a9,00	"
Rye flour	4,50a4,75	"

GROCERIES—The market for Coffee continues firm, but in our market there has been no recent change in prices; supply in first hands continues light, but jobbers as a rule continue to buy sparingly, evincing a determination to carry no more stock than they can avoid. Sugars, as noted in our last, are firmer but unchanged. Following were the stocks of raw Sugar in Boston, New York, Philadelphia and Baltimore at different dates: Sept. 21, 1876, 69,000 tons; Sept 23, 1875, 145,650 tons; Sept 24, 1874, 103,400 tons.

GRAPES—Quoted at 3a4c per lb.

GRAIN—Wheat continues to come forward sparingly, and with an increasing demand it is firm and higher; prime Penna and Ohio red may be quoted at $1,20; do amber, $1,22a1,23. Good red is more inquired for than white. The stock of Oats continues light, unequal to the demand, and prices, especially for spot delivery, are firm and higher; mixed, on track, 37a38; white, 39a40. It is said that quotations have been sent out at 42c, but so far as we can learn, there have been no sales above 40. Corn is also in light supply and firm but unchanged. Ear, 53a55; Shelled, 54a57c on track, as to quality. Rye is in demand at 63a65, with but little offering. Penna and Ohio Fall Barley, 90a$1.

ONIONS—$2a2.50 per bbl.

HAY—Loose from country wagons, $10a15, as to quality and condition. Baled is quoted at $13a15 for No. 1 Timothy, and $10a12 for No. 2. Prairie, $9 12, as to quality.

MILL FEED—Bran reported easier but unchanged, $11.50a12 ₩ ton, on track. Middlings in light supply and steady at $20a21. Seconds, shipstuffs, $14a15. The receipts have been light for some time past.

OILS—Winter strained Lard Oil firm at 95. Summer strained unchanged, but nominal. No. 1, 78; No. 2, 60a65c. Miners Oil very firm at the late advance, 57 for yellow, and 60 for white. Carbon still quoted at 23a25c.

POULTRY—Live chickens by the coop 35a45c ₩ pair, according to size.

POTATOES—Irish quoted at 65a75 per bu. Sweets quotable at $3a4 ₩ bbl, the outside figure for prime Jerseys.

PROVISIONS:—We can report a continued fair demand, but no change in prices. Chicago advices, under date of the 27th, report that orders from outside were few and the trading chiefly local. It now lacks but about five weeks to the time of opening the regular packing season; but, so far, there are few notes of preparation other than the discussion about the probable supply of hogs, and the prices at which they ought to sell on the 1st of November.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
FRIDAY, September 29, 1875.

The Crude market was considerably excited today, and prices as compared with Wednesday, were much higher. United certificates were quoted this P. M. at $3.90a3 92½ bid and asked, and spot shipment, $4.05. This is an advance of 20a25c ₩ bbl since the early part of the week, and some operators appear inclined to think that this last upward movement has been too rapid to be permanent.

Refined also firmer in sympathy with Crude; 26 bid for Philadelphia delivery. It looks as if refiners would succeed in bringing the exporters to terms. Price to home trade unchanged at 28.

Oil Barrels—City make lower, sales reported to-day at $1,35. Countries unchanged; $1,25.

THE IRON TRADE.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
FRIDAY, September 29, 1876.

Pittsburgh.

PIG IRON—There is but little that is really important to record in regard to this staple: business continues fairly active, and the market is steady, if anything, growing firmer, under the influence of an increasing consumption, reduction in stock, and a light production, but there has been no quotable change in prices since the date of our last review. The supply, both of good mill and foundry irons, not only here but at those points tributary to this market, is down lower now than it has been for a number of years, and, but for the unsatisfactory condition of trade in finished irons, holders would no doubt make an effort to advance prices; as it is, some are indifferent about selling, and others, are virtually out of the market. Consumers, however, continue to complain that the raw article is higher relatively than the product, and, as a rule, are adhering closely to the hand-to-mouth policy, buying only as their necessities require.

Following sales were reported:

ANTHRACITE.
100 tons Gray Forge	20 50	4 mos

10 tons No. 2 Foundry	23 00	4 mos
100 tons a mixed lot	19 50	cash
10 tons No. 2 Foundry	22 50	4 mos

MANUFACTURED IRON—There has been no particular change in the situation since the date of our last review; business continues fairly active, the mills, with the exception of those in the Bankrupt Court, are all in operation, some of them working double turn, but complaint is still being made in regard to prices, which for nearly all the regular sizes are being shaved so close that there is little or no margin for profit. There is a continued steady demand for Sheet, Hoop and Plate Iron as well as many of the leading specialities, and but for the drawback to which reference has been made there would be no cause for complaint. Late advices from other manufacturing points report business more active, and it looks as if the improvement was becoming general.

NAILS—The market continues active, more so, if anything, than usual at this particular time; stocks are reported comparatively light, both in first and second hands and prices are firm but unchanged. We continue to quote: $2,85, 60 days, for less than 200 kegs, and $2,75, 60 days, for orders of 200 kegs and upwards, with two per cent. off for cash. The Western Nail Association is still alive, and moreover, it is in a very healthy condition, hence business is much more satisfactory than in iron as there is no cutting in rates.

SCRAP—There is a fair business doing in scrap iron, although the inquiry is chiefly for small lots, and prices remain unchanged. No. 1 wrought scrap iron quotable at $25 4 mos. Scrap steel continues quiet and unchanged. Scrap dealers complain that prices are too low here as compared with other points, but there is no immediate chance of any improvement until after pig iron gets up.

HORSE AND MULE SHOES—Are in fair demand but unchanged; Shoenberger & Co quote at 4⅜c ₩ lb, cash, for Horse Shoes, and 5⅜c, cash, for Mule Shoes.

The Bank Burglars.

The latest information obtained by newsgatherers in regard to the bank robbers, is that the authorities are positive as to the identity of four of the party engaged in the affair. That being the case it is not improbable they may be captured. They are all strangers in this city. Lieutenant Cronin is still improving and will, no doubt, recover, unless a reaction takes place.

Base Ball Notes.

Only five innings were played yesterday in the game of ball at Union Park between the Alleghenys and the Buckeyes, of Columbus, O. The latter won by a score of 4 to 2. The Alleghenys played badly at the commencement of the game, and allowed their opponents to score three runs on one base hit. These same clubs play again this afternoon and it is to be hoped that the Buckeyes will permit the umpire to make at least one decision without demurring to it.

Pittsburgh, Wheeling and Kentucky Railroad.

The stockholders of the Pittsburgh, Wheeling and Kentucky Railroad held a meeting in Wheeling on Thursday and elected the following Board of Directors: Messrs. C. D. Hubbard, John McLure, Michael Reilly and Daniel C. List, of Ohio county, and Abram Wilson and H. J. Leasure, of Brooke county. This board is the same as the old one, with the exception of Mr. List, who was elected in place of Mr. Thomas Hughes, who declined to serve. In the election the stock of Brooke county was voted by Mr. Eugene Tarr, and that of Ohio county by Mr. John Bayha, these gentlemen having been authorized by the commissioners of their respective counties to represent them. An order was passed authorizing the Board of Directors to issue $200,000 of bonds, to secure the amount necessary to complete the road. Messrs. Hubbard, McLure and List were appointed a committee to prepare by-laws, to be presented to the regular annual meeting of the stockholders on the fourth Thursday in March next. The new Board of Directors will meet on Tuesday next for the purpose of organization and the transaction of other business.

A $2,000 FIRE.

Burning of the Foundry and Pattern Shop of Lewis, Oliver & Phillips' Mill.

An alarm of fire was sounded from box 132 about five minutes of 12 o'clock last evening. It was caused by the burning of the foundry and pattern shop attached to Lewis, Oliver & Phillips' rolling mill, at the foot of Twelfth street, South Side. The loss is about $2,000, which is fully covered by insurance.

The building is a brick, and the walls were comparatively uninjured, notwithstanding all the woodwork was burned out. The destruction of the patterns, which are very valuable, constituted the bulk of the loss. The fire caught from the cupola, and was discovered by the watchman, but not in time to prevent the destruction.

A Brother-in-Law Proposes a Duel as a Settlement of Difficulties.

Yesterday morning T. F. Cummings, who resides at the corner of West alley and Third street, Allegheny, was surprised by receiving a note signed with the name of his brother-in-law, John Kane, which was to the effect that the trouble between them could only be settled by a duel. The challenger asked that they meet three or four miles from the city and fight it out with revolvers, and requested him to fix the time and place. Cummings at once called on Mayor Phillips and made information against Kane, who was arrested and held for a hearing this evening. Kane denies having written or sent the letter, or having had any knowledge of its being sent. It may have been sent by some person as a joke.

THE CAMPAIGN.

[illegible] 300 men. The [illegible] onel, B. Paul; Lieut. Colonel, John A. Fox; Major, Samuel Baldwin.

The demonstration in the Eighteenth ward this evening will be a very imposing affair.

At the Republican meeting at Bellevue Tuesday evening, presided over by Mr. W. A. Shaw, addresses were delivered by Messrs. Wilson, Ayers, and Colonel T. M. Bayne, and resolutions endorsing the whole National and county ticket, and particularly commending Col. Bayne and B. F. Kennedy, Esq., candidate for Prothonotary to the voters of the district, were adopted.

The First Ward Hayes and Wheeler Club were presented with an elegant silk bunting flag last evening by Miss Annie Kierchler and the ladies of the ward. S. P. Fulton, Esq., made the presentation speech, which was responded to by Robert Frazier, Esq.

THE WOOD STREET PAVING.

The Work Progressing With Commendable Celerity.

A reporter of the GAZETTE took a walk down Wood street last evening to observe how the work of repaving that thoroughfare is progressing. He found that over two squares of the street are completed, while the old Nicholson is torn up as far as Diamond alley. Street Commissioner Hunter is well pleased with the work and thinks that it will be completed before the hard weather sets in.

The work of getting out the stone and preparing it for laying requires a larger number of men than the work on the street. At the quarry near Connellsville fifty men are constantly employed, and their labors are not more than sufficient to keep the pavers at work. An important fact in this connection is that the merchants along Wood street are highly pleased with the pavement. At first they opposed it very strenuously believing that the stone to be used was of a very inferior quality, and would wear out, and would also entail the additional expense of injury to their goods. Now they are fully convinced that it is fully as good, if not better than any other offered.

TIRED OF LIFE.

An Attempt by a Domestic to End Her Existence—How it was Frustrated.

Last night about six o'clock Maggie Fox attempted to commit suicide in Allegheny City. At the hour mentioned she called Park Officer Manealy to her side, while she was sitting near the lake in the West Park, and, showing him a paper containing white powder, told him it was arsenic and then deliberately swallowed a quantity of it. The rest she poured into the drinking fountain near by. He at once arrested her, removed her to the lock-up and summoned Dr. Cole, who promptly administered emetics and such antidotes as are necessary to counteract the effects of poison. It was then learned that she had gotten the powder at P. Gleim's drug store, on Rebecca street, at the corner of Allegheny avenue. Chief Ross at once repaired to that place to ascertain whether the woman had really purchased arsenic or not. Mr. Gleim stated that she had come there slightly intoxicated and asked for arsenic, but that he had given her powdered white sugar, fearing that she might want to do some injury with the poison. As soon as this was learned all anxiety in regard to the woman was dispelled, as her life had been saved by the good sense of the druggist. She was very sick from the effects of the emetics. She is a domestic and resides with a family on Third avenue. The only reason she would give for attempting to take her life was that she had had a great deal of trouble and wanted to die. She will probably be sent to the Work House to-day. The following letter was found on her person:

September 28th.

Dear Father and Mother:

My time is come. I from you all must go. I send my love to one and all. This is all I can say for I can't get the time. Miss Maggie Fox is the name, and this is where I want you to send me when found; to New Matamoras, Washington county, Ohio.

Where Are We Now?

Politically, in the midst of a closely fought battle; financially, in the winding up of a panic, of whom none has done more to bring about this consummation than R. Taggart, boot and shoe dealer, 129 Federal street, Allegheny, who at all times since 1873 has kept a watchful eye upon the financial sea, and lowered the price of his boots, shoes and gaiters to suit the times. Were all goods in the market sold with a margin so close as he sells boots and shoes, the panic would not be known, even among those of moderate circumstances. No shoddy or paper stock, but the best in material and manufacture at lowest possible prices.

Notice.—For some time past many of our customers have been disappointed in not getting what French bread they wanted at our retail department, No. 18 Fifth avenue. We have increased our facilities and will endeavor hereafter to have a full supply for all.

AMONG THE CHURCHES.

Brief Notes of Matters Personal and Otherwise.

THE "new preachers" will appear in Methodist pulpits to-morrow wherever there has been a change.

THE new pastor, Rev. W. P. Turner, will occupy the pulpit in the Fifth Avenue M. E. Church to-morrow.

THE Presbyterian church at Braddocks will be dedicated to-day—Rev. Geo. P. Hays preaching the sermon.

PROF. THOMAS C. STRONG, D. D., will preach in the Third Presbyterian Church to-morrow morning and evening.

COMMUNION SERVICE will be held at the Grace Presbyterian Church, Arch street, to-morrow afternoon at three o'clock.

ALL the religious papers of our city this week contain appreciative notices of the life and services of the late Rev. Dr. Howard.

REV. G. H. HUMPHREY, of the South Side, will preach to-morrow evening on "The German Sunday and the Scotch Sabbath."

REV. W. J. HOLLAND will preach in the Bellefield Presbyterian Church to-morrow evening on "The Sanctification of the Imagination."

DR. C. E. FELTON, the newly appointed pastor, will preach in Christ M. E. Church, Penn avenue, to-morrow at 10½ A. M. and 7½ P. M.

REV. DR. E. B. SNYDER, appointed pastor of the Emory M. E. church, East End, will preach in that church to-morrow morning, and in his old pulpit, North Avenue, to-morrow evening.

REV. MISS A. J. CHAPIN will preach to-morrow at the Universalist Church. Service in the morning only. She will preach in the evening at the Reformed Episcopal Church, East Liberty.

As the time for beginning the Moody and Sankey meeting in Chicago draws near, the attendance at preparatory excercises increases. Everything is expected to be in readiness by the 1st of October.

THE Clerical Conference for the Catholic Diocese of Allegheny will be held on Tuesday, October 3rd, in the basement of St. Peter's Cathedral, and on Thursday, the 5th, at the Pastoral Residence, Altoona.

REV. DR. S. M. VERNON, the new pastor of the North Avenue M. E. church, Allegheny City, will preach in that church to-morrow morning, and in his old pulpit, at Emory M. E church, East End, in the evening.

ACCORDING to Dr. Reid, Secretary of the Methodist Missionary Society, there is great danger that the debt in November will amount to $250,000, unless the collections and donations shall in the meantime be largely increased over the present rates.

THERE will be services in the Second Presbyterian Church, (late Dr. Howard's), Penn avenue and Sixth street, conducted in the morning, at 10½ o'clock, by Rev. Elliott E. Swift, D. D., and in the evening at 7½ o'clock, by Rev. W. H. Gill, of Allegheny.

SUNDAY School teachers and all interested in Sunday School work are invited to attend the teacher's meeting, held every Saturday from 12 to 12:45 noon, for the study of the lesson for the next day. The meeting will be led to-day by Hall W. Watts. Subject "Stephen's defense."

REV. WESLEY BROWNING, about forty years ago stationed in this city, for more than fifty years in the ministry, was granted a superannuated relation at the recent session of the St. Louis Conference of the M. E. church, South. We believe he superintended the building of Liberty street M. E. church, of this city.

THE Women's Missionary Society connected with the Pittsburgh Baptist Association will hold its quarterly meeting next Thursday afternoon and evening in the Penn avenue Baptist Church, East End. The afternoon meeting is for ladies only. In the evening several addresses will be delivered, and all are cordially invited.

THE next regular meeting of the Evangelical Ministerial Association of Pittsburgh, Allegheny and vicinity, will be held in the lecture room of the First Presbyterian Church, Pittsburgh, on Monday, at 2 P. M. Question—"Is the use of a library advisable?" Opened by Rev. O. P. Emerson; also, a paper by Rev. F. R. Wotring, on the use of Public Conveyances on the Lord's Day.

WE HAD the pleasure of a call yesterday from the Rev. Dr. F. S. De Hass, United States Consul at Jerusalem, who is now at home on a four months' leave of absence. The Doctor has lost none of his old time eloquence in the pulpit, or colloquial power in the social circle. He has many friends here who are pleased to clasp hands with him again, and revive pleasant memories of the by-gone.

A WRITER in a prominent religious paper finds some fault with the Sabbath-school work of Lake Chautauqua, notwithstanding the many excellent features of the enterprise. He thinks that the evidences of mutual admiration among the managers and leaders were strong enough to be clearly noticed. Many of the speakers who were put up with a flourish of trumpets were very ordinary in their ability to instruct and entertain; but a policy of mutuality in admiring in a certain circle made it all right.

THE Pittsburgh Baptist Sunday School Convention will hold a stated meeting next Wednesday in the Mount Washington Baptist Church, Pittsburgh. Three sessions will be held, commencing at 10 o'clock A. M. and at 2 and 7½ P. M. A good programme has been prepared. The principal topics are, "The teacher's work and how do it," by Rev. William Codville, "How to study a lesson," by Rev. J. B. Mulford; "Primary teaching," by Mrs. C. C. Myler, and "The school at work," by Prof. J. F. Carey. A discussion will follow the presentation of each topic. The evening will be occupied with a children's meeting.

THE Pittsburgh Catholic thinks religion makes no such unreasonable demands upon human credulity as those made by the so-called scientists of the school of Darwin, Spencer and Huxley. These ask more than man is entitled to give them, for they virtually ask that we should transfer our faith in God, man's consolation, and hope here below, to them. For our part, while favoring every movement and all the real progress of science, we much prefer to worship at the shrine of the one true God, whose marvellous creation is but a type of His powers, than at the altar of which the trio we have named are the high priests."

MRS. J. F. KEEN, Corresponding Secretary of the Philadelphia Branch of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the M. E. Church, will be in the city next week. Her visit is looked forward to with pleasant anticipations by the ladies connected with the auxiliary societies in our vicinity, and arrangements are being made for several meetings in the interest of the missionary cause while she is here. These will likely consist of a reception on Tuesday afternoon at Christ Church, a meeting at the North Avenue Church, Allegheny, on Wednesday evening, and one at Christ Church on Thursday evening.

HAVING completed the refitting of their house of worship, the Eleventh U. P. church, located in the Thirty-sixth ward, Pittsburgh, will resume their regular services to-morrow. The services will be conducted by the pastor, Rev. George K. Ormond, D. D., in connection with other ministers, who will be present on the occasion. The opening sermon will be preached by Rev. D. A. McClean, D. D., at 10½ o'clock, A. M. Services at 7½ in the evening by a number of ministers who are expected to be present. The Sabbath school will be held at 9½ A. M., and the mission schools at the usual hours in the afternoon. Communion service will be held in the church October 8, and preparatory services next Wednesday, Thursday and Saturday.

THE Ninth Annual Convention of the Y. M. C. A. of Pennsylvania, met in Danville on the 21st, and adjourned on the 24th. The convention was the best ever held in this State and showed encouraging progress in the Association work. An Executive Committee of twenty, composed of well known business men of the State, was appointed to have the supervision of the work. Among them are Gen. Jas. A. Beaver, of Bellefonte, John Wanamaker, of Philadelphia, H. K. Porter, of Pittsburgh, W. R. Davenport, of Erie, Thomas Mann, of Lewistown, Samuel Harsh, of Pleasantville, James McCormick, Jr., of Harrisburg, D. E. Small, of York, William Adamson, of Germantown, Rev. W. C. Cattell, D. D., of Easton, and John Hill, of Blairsville. There are now 149 Associations in this State—70 more than in any other State.

THE Christian Advocate speaking of the Rev. Dr. Felton, the new pastor of Christ M. E. church, this city, gives him this complimentary "send off:" "We have known him for years, and are willing to endorse the wisdom of the choice. For years he was one of the first preachers of the Ohio Conference, and after a very successful pastorate in Columbus he was transferred to the Erie Conference and stationed at the First Church, Cleveland. His success there was decided, and at the end of three years he was removed to St. Louis and stationed at Union church. His next church was Trinity, Chicago. His reputation as an able minister and pastor was fully sustained in both these cities. The health of his wife failing, travel was ordered. The last year was spent upon the continent of Europe and in the Holy Land. Those places of great historic interest, Jerusalem, Athens, Venice, Rome, Florence, and the chief cities of the continent have been visited leisurely, and the opportunities they afford for study and improvement enjoyed. An able minister, a faithful pastor, a fine organizer, a Christian gentleman, we congratulate the church upon their good fortune, and also the pastor upon his, in being called to minister to such a people."

Court Brevities.

A WRIT of error in the Magee-McCarthy case was taken out yesterday, and the case will be heard at the coming term of the Supreme Court.

MR. THOS. D. PATTERSON, Chief Clerk in the County Treasurers Office was presented with a valuable gold pen by his fellow clerks as a testimonial of their regard. The occasion was a pleasant one.

THE most important cases to be argued at the approaching term of the Supreme Court which convenes in this city Monday are the Murray-Kilgore case, the contest for the office of County Treasurer; the Magee-McCarthy Mayorality case, and the Clark-McCully bond of friendship case.

AN inquisition was held by the Sheriff yesterday in the case of Daniel and John Crider vs. John Burns, which was an action to recover damages. On the 26th of July last John Crider was shot at Wilkinsburg by the defendant, who being annoyed by a crowd of boys ordered them away, and in order to frighten them fired his revolver, in a different direction, as he supposed, from where the boys were. John Crider, however, had left the crowd, with another boy, and being in the neighborhood in which the shot was fired, was struck in the hip. Suits were brought, and the defendant failed to file affidavits of defense, whereupon judgment was taken in default, and the matter referred to the Sheriff's inquisition to assess the damages. The father was allowed $124 for loss of time and other inconvencies occasioned by the shooting and the son $150.

A QUESTION arose in the Criminal Court yesterday as to the privileges of a witness. A case of assault and battery was on trial, in which the defendant was charged with striking the prosecutrix with a dish cloth. A witness on the stand testified that she was present and saw the blow struck, and that it was not the defendant who struck it. In the cross-examination an effort was made to force her to tell who did strike the prosecutrix when counsel for the defense objected. The court held that it was only necessary to warn the witness at the beginning of the cross-examination that she need not answer any questions to criminate herself, and that it was not proper for counsel to direct her to answer or decline to answer every question as it was asked. Mr. Moore, counsel for defendant, held that it was not only the privilege of counsel to protect the witness against the wiles and ingenuity of opposing counsel, but that it was unquestionably the duty of the court whenever a question was asked a witness, the answer to which might have a tendency to criminate, to direct the witness that she was not bound to answer, if the answer would criminate her.

Anyone

Who has experienced the misery attended on the wearing of spectacles unsuited to their sight, can appreciate the advantage of having a thoroughly practical optician, like Mr. Kornblum, located in our city. His skill and success in fitting the eye with glasses exactly suited to its requirements, would appear almost an instinct, did we not know that his art has been attained only by his patient study and experience of years. We can from personal experience endorse Mr. Kornblum's right to claim a thorough and practical knowledge of his business, and the care and attention he bestows on every case is beyond praise. Mr. Kornblum has his office in R. S. Davis & Co.'s book store, corner Fifth avenue and Wood street, Pittsburgh, Pa.

"Are You Going to the Wedding?"

This is the prevalent question in a certain quarter of the city to-day. The affair has been kept so quiet that but few were aware of the arrangements in progress. Among the few "in the secret" was Kinder Blair, who has sole charge of the table and its bewildering load of delicacies. And it is reasonable to suppose that that wedding is going to pass off with rare eclat.

The Nineteenth Century Desideratum Supplied—The Pittsburgh Hot Air Furnace, a Marvel of Cleanliness, Safety and Economy.

Contractors, building committees, architects and those constructing or about to construct dwellings, who fail to examine the merits of the Pittsburgh Hot Air Furnace are inexcusably and culpably negligent. A device that combines so many advantageous features for heating purposes should be considered as indispensable to every building erected. For the benefit of those who would learn its merits a few items will be given, with the advice that all should call at the office of Messrs. L. Peterson, Jr., & Co., 187 Liberty street, for an elaborate description, which the manufacturers will cheerfully give. And first, its simplicity of construction renders it the cheapest heating apparatus manufactured. By reason of the locomotive shaking grate bar, it becomes so easy of management that a novice of tender years may control its every operation with full success. The entire exclusion of the hot air chamber from the combustion chamber secures perfect freedom from dust and dirt. The heat being absorbed and radiated by a substructure of brick, with hollow walls, a very moderate degree of combustion is sufficient to secure all the hot air required, and the air not being deprived of its oxygen by any red hot radiating surface, is therefore pure, moist and healthy. No heat is lost by surface radiation, every particle being reserved in the hot air chamber which insures the maximum of capacity and efficiency. It will burn effectively the veriest refuse of the mines, slack coal, indeed, being preferable to lump, and a house of ten or twelve rooms can be comfortably heated at a cost of a dime and a half per day, which makes it the ne plus ultra furnace in the matter of economy. But we have said enough to convince our readers that this furnace for cleanliness, safety, simplicity, economy, healthfulness, cheapness, ease of management and efficiency is not surpassed by any other wherever manufactured. Call and examine thoroughly and impartially and then judge.

The Turkish Bath for Rheumatism.

Rheumatism is one of the most painful and severe diseases to which human beings are subject. It is generally caused by some poison or humor in the blood. This usually effects the white fibrous tissues, such as the muscles, the facia, the ligaments and tendons, and the fibro-serous membranes. It is often confined to the joints, and sometimes locates in the membranes which surround the heart. A peculiarity of the disease is that it shifts from one part of the body to another. The pain may be in one place to-day, in a different part to-morrow, and in a few days perhaps return to its original location. As this disease is due to poison in the blood, the best—in fact the only way—to effect a permanent cure is to get the poison out, and this can be accomplished in no way so effectually as by the Turkish Bath. "For Gout and Rheumatism it is the remedy par excellence." To gouty rheumatics, try the process at 80 Diamond street, and be convinced.

An Elegant Stock at the Usual Low Prices.

A Piano or Organ has become so necessary to every household that we feel it our pleasant duty to inform our readers just where to go to get suited in every particular. We refer to the well known piano and organ house of S. Hamilton, at 87 Fifth avenue, under Masonic Hall, the largest music house in Pennsylvania, we believe; at least his trade is very much larger, and what is still more important, is the fact that his trade is of the very best, judging from the fact that the Matchless Decker Piano, and Great Estey Cottage Organ, and also the Celebrated Haines Bro.'s Pianos are sold here, and as they are the recognized leading instruments in this country, they are of course bought by those who know how to appreciate a real genuine good instrument. But the best is always the cheapest, both for present satisfactory use and for long satisfactory results. Who ever heard of an old worn-out Decker or Estey? Such a thing is unheard of. They are the best for the rich, because they are treasured as a work of art, and they are best for the poor, because they will last a life-time, and can be used all the time without being a constant source of expense; while another feature that must not be lost sight of is, that they can be bought for less money and on easier terms than any other first-class goods. Owing to the large number Mr. H. buys during the year, and buying strictly for cash, he gets his goods lower, and of course can sell much lower and on easier terms of payment than any other house. We would call special attention to his magnificent stock just received as being, without doubt, the finest in the city, and we know a call at his rooms will amply repay any one. Don't forget to call at S. Hamilton's, 87 Fifth avenue, either day or Saturday evening, as his store is open to 8 P. M. Saturday.

VEGETINE

Purifies the Blood, Renovates and Invigorates the Whole System.

Its Medicinal Properties are

ALTERATIVE, TONIC, SOLVENT AND DIURETIC.

VEGETINE is made exclusively from the juices of carefully selected barks, roots and herbs, and so strongly concentrated that it will effectually eradicate from the system, every taint of Scrofula, Scrofulous Humor, Tumors, Cancer, Cancerous Humors, Erysipelas, Salt Rheum, Syphilitic Diseases, Canker, Faintness at the Stomach, and all diseases that arise from impure blood. Sciatica, Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Gout and Spinal Complaints, can only be effectually cured through the blood.

For Ulcers and Eruptive Diseases of the Skin, Pustules, Pimples, Blotches, Boils, Tetter, Scaldhead and Ringworm, VEGETINE has never failed to effect a permanent cure.

For Pains in the Back, Kidney Complaints, Dropsy, Female weakness, Leucorrhœa, raising from internal ulceration, and uterine diseases and General Debility, VEGETINE acts directly upon the causes of these complaints. It invigorates and strengthens the whole system, acts upon the secretive organs, allays inflammation, cures ulceration, and regulates the bowels.

For Catarrh, Dyspepsia, Habitual Costiveness, Palpitation of the Heart, Headache, Piles, Nervous and General prostration of the Nervous System, no medicine has ever given such perfect satisfaction as the VEGETINE. It purifies the blood, cleanses all the organs, and possesses a controlling power over the nervous system.

The remarkable cures effected by VEGETINE have induced many physicians and apothecaries whom we know to prescribe and use it in their own families.

In fact, VEGETINE is the best remedy yet discovered for the above diseases, and it is the only reliable BLOOD PURIFIER yet placed before the public.

UNQUALIFIED APPRECIATION.

BOSTON, Nov. 18, 1875.

H. R. STEVENS, ESQ.:

Dear Sir—During the past five years I have had ample opportunity to judge of the merit of VEGETINE. My wife has used it for complaints attending a lady of delicate health, with more beneficial results than anything else which she ever tried. I have given it to my children under almost every circumstance attending a large family, and always with marked benefit. I have taken it myself with such great benefit that I cannot find words to express my unqualified appreciation of its goodness.

While performing my duties as a Police officer in this city, it has been my lot to fall in with a great deal of sickness. I unhesitatingly recommend VEGETINE and I never knew of a case where it did not prove all that was claimed for it. Particularly in cases of a debilitated or impoverished state of the blood its effects are really wonderful; and for all complaints arising form an impure state of the blood it appears to work like a charm, and I do not believe there are any circumstances under which VEGETINE can be used with injurious results, and it will always afford me pleasure to give any further information as to what I know about VEGETINE.

CANNOT BE EXCELLED.

CHARLESTOWN, March 19, 1869.

H. R. STEVENS:

Dear Sir—This is to certify that I have used your blood preparation (VEGETINE) in my family for several years, and think that, for Scrofula or Cankerous Humors, or Rheumatic Affections, it cannot be excelled; and, as a blood-purifier and spring medicine, it is the best thing I have ever used; and I have used almost everything. I can cheerfully recommend it to any one in need of such a medicine.

Yours respectfully,
MRS. A. A. DINSMORE,
19 Russell street.

A Source of Great Anxiety.

My daughter has received great benefit from the use of the VEGETINE. Her declining health was a source of great anxiety to all of her friends. A few bottles of the VEGETINE restored her health, strength and appetite.

LONDON, September 29.—The English hop crop is now nearly secured. The color is generally better, and the proportion of low diseased samples less than expected, but on account of the changes of temperature and lack of moisture during the most critical period of the growth the product is thin and extremely varied. On the Continent, except in Belgium, the crops, especially in Germany, are reduced, being less than a quarter of those of last season. Germany must continue to buy in the English and American markets, more or less, for the next ten months. American hops of 1876 are quoted at £8@8 8s. There have been but few arrivals.

Dry Goods.

NEW YORK, September 29. — Business was fairly active with jobbers, and a moderate package trade was effected. Cotton goods were steady and unchanged. Prints were active, firm and in light supply. Ginghams are jobbing freely at low prices. Flannels and blankets are in steady request, and men's wear woolens in moderate demand. Dress goods were active and firm. Skirts and shawls are moving steadily.

The Reading Railway.

PHILADELPHIA, September 29.—The tumble of the Reading railroad stock on Wednesday from 44 to 32¼ entailed a heavy loss on many holders, and to-day's transactions are still more disastrous. Wednesday's market closed at 32¼, and it was thought very fortunate that a holiday was to come before further business, in order that the market might recover its tone. This morning Reading opened at 31, but by half-past eleven o'clock there had been sales of Reading as low as 25½, and at that moment it was standing at 26¼. After half past eleven Reading vibrated between 25 and 27¼, and at half past twelve was steady at 27. The downfall will result, it is feared, in the serious crippling, if not ruin, of many who were large holders of the stock as an investment, as well as of others who bought for speculation.

THE Ella and Reindeer arrived at Cincinnati on Wednesday, and the Sam Clark, Coal City and Coal Valley, left there the same day for this port—to-day and regularly every Saturday hereafter. WHENEVER you see Danny McAleer's carpet sack dragging eight inches on the ground, and Danny pulling at it like it was glued fast, you can bet he's tired.—Louisville Courier.

THE late high water has done much damage to the corn crop of the lower Scioto bottom. In the immediate neighborhood of Portsmouth, hundreds of acres were submerged, and an almost total loss of the crop grown there is apprehended.

THE Katie P. Kountz en route from St. Louis, has for Pittsburgh—518 sks mill feed, McBane & Auger; 189 sks do, to order; 200 tons iron ore, J. Painter & Sons; 46 bales b corn, R. Dickey & Co.; lot of household goods, J. C. Shalor; 24 ale bbls, Spencer & McKay; 1 bx hdwe, Klein, L. & Co.

COL. Macomb is making preparations for resuming work on the Keokuk Rapids and Upper River. The Montana left Davenport, Iowa, last week, to begin operations between the mouth of the St. Croix and St. Paul. The Colonel proposes to go a short distance up the river with the boat, for the purpose of taking a look at the Rock Island rapids.

THE Pine Bluff is the only boat running out of Little Rock at this time. She plies between the Arkansas capital and Pine Bluff, draws 12 inches, carries a big freight on 18 inches, and is comanded by Jim Bolin. The Maumelle is repairing at Little Rock. She is to run above that port as soon as there is water and the trade opens. The Gen. Wiles, a small side-wheel boat from Zanesville, Ohio, is lying at Little Rock, destined to Upper Arkansas water. A nice little sidewheel trading boat called Inspector, is lying at Little Rock, ready to resume business as soon as she can get anywhere.

THE Memphis Avalanche says: Seven dollars per ton on the bank for shipment is the price New Orleans oil mills will pay for cotton seed, but their agents will not purchase from planters who live north of Niblett's Landing, 110 miles below here. The planters of the lower country region will realize fairly for their seed crop at the foregoing figures. As the people north of Niblett's will get but $7 per ton, including boat freight of $3 to $4 per ton it is natural that they are a little out of humor on the seed question. Planters are hauling cotton and seed to the river very freely, and shipments are rapidly increasing. From this time forth the inward bound steamers will bring us increased shipments of the staple.

THE St. Louis Republican says: Trip No. 6 of the M. S. Mepham, in 1864, was made from St. Louis to Duvall's Bluff on White river, and return—time 20 days. Steamboats at that time were splendid property if properly managed. The Mepham's trip statement No. 6 reads as follows: Passage down $1,263 20; do. up, $1,392. Freight down $9,491 26; do. up, $1,589 61; bar receipts, $2,700 70; paid officer's wages, $1,829 34; cabin, $873 50; men, $1,183 46; repairs, $2,491 24; expense, $1,083 18; stores, $2,226 65; wood, $1,588 14; extra insurance on freight list, $240; bar account, $1,703 70. Total receipts, $16,427 27; total expenses, $13,019 21. Amount of gain this trip, $3,418 06. This boat was run at a cost of about $650 per day.

"CHILSON FURNACE,"

In evidence of which we append card from the manufacturer:

The citizens of Pittsburgh are respectfully informed that I have given the exclusive agency for the sale of my furnaces to L. H. SMITH & CO., No. 49 SIXTH STREET. I trust these furnaces will be as highly appreciated throughout the west as they now are in the eastern cities. For simplicity, durability, heating capacity and ease of management, they have no equal. The fact that over thirty thousand of the furnaces have been sold fully proves the above.
